The April RUGBY Magazine is out on iPad and iPhone, and will be available to RUGBYMag.com subscribers soon.

The theme of the issue is Why We Play, and we profile some players who love the game for

April RUGBY Magazine on iPad

Written by Alex Goff Wednesday, 24 April 2013 22:32 various ways, while Alex Goff addresses one of the main obstacles to rugby players who just want to play. Jackie Finlan also addresses issues that undercut just taking the field, while Pat Clifton takes a more romantic view as he recalls the special moments on road trips.

We check in with Samu Manoa, and his rugby-playing little sister. We speak with Brett Thompson, look at how rugby became an Olympic sport the first time, and examine one of the game's great rivalries - Glendale and the Denver Barbarians.

And finally, Sammy Anderson from the University of Tennessee gives his own spin on his experiences at Stellenbosch.

To subscribe on your Apple device, go to the Apple Store.