

Player of the Year: Tim Holkenborg; Senior Flyhalf - University of South Carolina

Tim had a stellar season guiding the South Carolina turnaround this season. His accolades this year include being named eastern division player of the week 3 out of the 9 weeks of competition and being named to the All SCRC Tournament team. Last fall Tim was also named to the All SCRC 7s squad. Tim did an outstanding job of directing the attack of a efficient South Carolina back line as well as providing many points off the tee.

Coach of the Year: Mark Morris - University of South Carolina

This year the conference had a couple outstanding coaching performances, and Mark did an excellent job turning around the South Carolina program into a program that finished nationally in the top 16. South Carolina went 5-1 in league and finished 2nd in the eastern division. They advanced to the conference championship by beating LSU and then fell to Tennessee the following game. Mark is a humble coach who will give all the credit to his players for their hard work and determination, but he provided a stable platform of leadership that helped create a winning season and culture at South Carolina.
